A NEW look Boystown has been unveiled at Kingston after five months of work.

The major redevelopment was completed by 10 local young people and included the addition of training rooms, a client kitchen, connective decking, gardens and landscaping.

Federal Member for Rankin Craig Emerson said 1600 young people in Logan were assisted by Boystown.

He said many lives had been saved.

"Many young people have been saved from getting into trouble and have had instilled in them a positive view of the future and what they can achieve."

Dr Emerson said the Australian Government had invested $550,000 in Boystown, which itself had invested $744,000.

"This is a celebration. Many kids are told they're not clever, are no good, but I know kids in Logan City are just as bright, just as good, just as promising and with just as much potential as anyone in Australia."

Logan Mayor Pam Parker said she looked forward to working with Boystown.
